

PERMISSION TO USE PHOTOS AND IMAGES OF YOU

Purpose

The Eradicate Hate Global Summit's goal is to motivate action to prevent hate-fueled violence. To achieve our goal, we need to encourage top experts in numerous professions, disciplines, and sectors to attend our conference and participate in working groups. We also need to inform and encourage others to use the multidisciplinary action plans, model programs, and best practices developed through the Summit. Photographs, videos, and other images of the speakers and attendees at our conference capture their inspiration in action. To fulfill our mission, publicize our work, motivate others to participate with us, and raise funds, we seek to create and use photographs, videos, and images of you.

Authorization and Release

By registering to attend or agreeing to speak at the Summit's conference or to participate in a working group formed by the Summit:

- You understand and agree that the Summit may create and use photographs, images, videos, audio and audiovisual recordings, and other materials that may incorporate your likeness, name, appearance, voice, and biographical information (collectively, "Materials") for any purpose consistent with its nonprofit mission, including on its website; in its social media, printed and digital media, and publications (such as brochures); and for advertising, fundraising, promotion, and any other business purpose. This Authorization and Release does not apply to any proprietary, scholarly, or professional work product, publication, or article that you created, participated in creating, or may cite.
- You grant to the Summit the right, license, and permission to display, use, or copyright the Materials without your prior review or approval.
- You release and discharge the Summit and all persons acting on its behalf from all claims and demands arising out of this Authorization and Release or any display, use, or copyright of the Materials, including claims of libel, misappropriation, or invasion of privacy. Additionally, you waive all rights and claims to royalties or other compensation related to the Summit's display, use, or copyright of the Materials.
